WILLIAMS COUNTY, OHIO MARRIAGES VOLUME 5

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the date herein presented, one must understand several facts about the original volume at the Williams County, Ohio Probate Court. Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand copied by a county official(s) as most of the handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The handwritten index that precedes the volume cited the certificate number where the entry could be found and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry. Later the volume was microfilmed and placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases the data was copied exactly the way it appeared.

A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed and the name of the official performing the marriage, the date the marriage was filed and recorded, letters of permission from a parent, usually the bride's oldest male relative, and residence of one or both of the applicants which was located outside Williams County, Ohio. A good research practice would be to check the record for all these extra bits of data as not all of this is included in this research source.

What is included in this book?

- An alphabetical listing by surname for both male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index.
- Date of marriage arranged by day, abbreviated month, and year.
- Certificate number within the volume aiding anyone who wishes to obtain a copy of the entry either from the printed manuscript or the microfilm roll.
- An asterick * to indicate the date is that of license application or the date of filing and recording where no marriage date is listed. A --- is used to indicate when the names of the applicants are listed but there is no date for any proceedings.
- Several entries were given the same certificate number so if a researcher decides to write the Probate Office or the Bryan Public Library one should mention that possibility in the copy request. Some of the entries have another person(parent, guardian) signing the marriage application if the man was not 21 and/or the woman was not 18 years of age. In all cases check multiple spellings of surnames.

WILLIAMS COUNTY, OHIO MARRIAGES VOLUME 6

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the date herein presented, one must understand several facts about the original volume at the Williams County, Ohio Probate Court. Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand copied by a county official(s) as most of the handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The handwritten index that precedes the volume cited the certificate number where the entry could be found and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry. Later the volume was microfilmed and placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases the data was copied exactly the way it appeared.

A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed and the name of the official performing the marriage, the date the marriage was filed and recorded, letters of permission from a parent, usually the bride's oldest male relative, and residence of one or both of the applicants which was located outside Williams County, Ohio. A good research practice would be to check the record for all these extra bits of data as not all of this is included in this research source.

What is included in this book?

- An alphabetical listing by surname for both male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index.
- Date of marriage arranged by day, abbreviated month, and year.
- Certificate number within the volume aiding anyone who wishes to obtain a copy of the entry either from the printed manuscript or the microfilm roll.
- An asterick * to indicate the date is that of license application or the date of filing and recording where no marriage date is listed. A --- is used to indicate when the names of the applicants are listed but there is no date for any proceedings.
- Several entries were given the same certificate number so if a researcher decides to write the Probate Office or the Bryan Public Library one should mention that possibility in the copy request. Some of the entries have another person(parent, guardian) signing the marriage application if the man was not 21 and/or the woman was not 18 years of age. In all cases check multiple spellings of surnames.

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the date herein presented, one must understand several facts about the original volume at the Williams County, Ohio Probate Court. Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand copied by a county official(s) as most of the handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The handwritten index that precedes the volume cited the certificate number where the entry could be found and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry. Later the volume was microfilmed and placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases the data was copied exactly the way it appeared.

A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed and the name of the official performing the marriage, the date the marriage was filed and recorded, letters of permission from a parent, usually the bride's oldest male relative, and residence of one or both of the applicants which was located outside Williams County, Ohio. A good research practice would be to check the record for all these extra bits of data as not all of this is included in this research source.

What is included in this book?

- An alphabetical listing by surname for both male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index.
- Date of marriage arranged by MONTH, DAY, and YEAR(10/23/96).
- Certificate number within the volume aiding anyone who wishes to obtain a copy of the entry either from the printed manuscript or the microfilm roll.
- An asterick * to indicate the date is that of license application or the date of filing and recording where no marriage date is listed.  indicates that bans were announced.
- Several entries were given the same certificate number so if a researcher decides to write the Probate Office or the Bryan Public Library one should mention that possibility in the copy request. Some of the entries have another person(parent, guardian) signing the marriage application if the man was not 21 and/or the woman was not 18 years of age. In all cases check multiple spellings of surnames.

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the date herein presented, one must understand several facts about the original volume at the Williams County, Ohio Probate Court(recently moved to the Williams County Probate Court). Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand copied by a county official(s) as most of the handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The handwritten index that precedes the volume cited the page number where the entry could be found and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry. Later the volume was microfilmed and placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases the data was copied exactly the way it appeared.

A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed and the name of the official performing the marriage, the date the marriage was filed and recorded, letters of permission from a parent, usually the bride's oldest male relative, the ages of the bride and groom, the names of the parents of the bride and groom, indication of previous marriages by either party, and the residence of one or both of the applicants. Some of the entries did not include a date of marriage so for those that have none listed, a researcher might wanted to check the original for further information. Several of the marriages cited were listed as BANNS POSTED. A good research practice would be to check the record for all of these extra bits of data as not all of this is included in this research source.

What is included in this book?

- An alphabetical listing by surname for both male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index.
- Date of marriage arranged by MONTH/DAY/YEAR (10/23/99); 99 IS 1899; 0 IS 1900; 1 IS 1901; 2 IS 1902; AND 3 IS 1903 for the last part of the dates used.
- Page number within the volume aiding anyone who wishes to obtain a copy of the entry either from printed or microfilmed source.
